REAL PATRIOT TO SPEAK ON "REAL RUSSIA"

Lecturer, Author, Traveler and Social Worker Here With Vital Message

SOCIALISM MUST STAND ACID TEST OF LOYALTY

Party must Prove Patriotism and Truth of Stand for Genuine Democracy

- HOME GUARD TO ATTEND
- The Bismarck Home Guard is requested to turn out in full strength for drill at 7 o'clock sharp this evening. A number of important matters are to come up, and following the business meeting, the guard will march in a body to the Auditorium to hear Charles Edward Russell's address.

Charles Edward Russell, one of the biggest and most constructive socialists America has produced, a welcome contributor to all of America's leading magazines; a member of the Bismarck Tribune's special staff of correspondents; for a number of years editor of the William Randolph Hearst's Chicago American; recently a member of the Root commission to Russia, arrived in Bismarck today prepared to address Slope people at the Auditorium this evening on "The Real Russia."

Russell went to Russia as a trained newspaper man, with attentive eye, receptive ear and retentive mind. He absorbed a firm fact from fancy; peered beneath the surface, saw the real Russia as it is, and to night he is prepared to tell Slope people what they may expect from Russia. The interesting series of articles which he has contributed to The Bismarck Tribune have prepared its thousands of readers for his coming. No speaker who has appeared in Bismarck to discuss issues involved in the present world's crisis has been so widely heralded or has attracted so much attention.

Spoke at Fargo. Charles Edward Russell spoke at Fargo last evening for the first time since his visit to the Gate City during the early days of the Nonpartisan league, when the took an interest in that organization, writing a number of articles for Pearson's magazine on the possibilities of a league of farmers. Russell did not attend the producers' and consumers' convention at St. Paul, and his present visit to North Dakota is in no wise connected with the league. He comes as a representative of the United States bureau of information, one of a great corps of prominent lecturers, authors and statesmen who are touring the country, carrying Uncle Sam's truth to the people.

Russell is a pacifist of the Groun, La. Follette type at the outbreak of the war. Because he deserted that brand of socialism which makes traitors, he was read out of the social list party by leaders of that type who insist upon seizing this crisis for the further rearing of walls of prejudice and class hatred. He has nothing in common with socialists of the Max Eastman, Victor Gollancz, Emma Goldman ilk. He is first of all an American.

He believes in the future of true socialism. He said on his arrival in Bismarck this afternoon that the real socialism which teaches the universal brotherhood of man, and equality of opportunity has made great strides even because of the war. He admits the failure of that sham, ranting, rabid anarchy which has masqueraded in America and elsewhere as socialism, but he contends that the things which really count that have been championed by constructive socialists are being gradually adopted, and that the socialist doctrine of evolution as opposed to revolution is winning new and powerful disciples every day.

Radical Then, Conservative Now. "Shortly after my return from Russia," he talked with the governor of an American state who a few years ago was considered the last word in radicalism. He is preaching the same doctrine now that he did then, and he is considered rather conservative. Many of the things he advocated a few years ago that won him his reputation as an extremist have been incorporated in the platforms of the old parties.

"Evolution will win the day, but socialism must stand the acid test of loyalty to flag and country. The war is leading us to the false from the true. It will leave the real socialism (Continued on page 4.)

One Percent Draft Army Moves Soon

Five Hundred Men from Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois to be Called

ORDER ISSUED TO CARE FOR MEN OUT OF WORK

Camp Dodge, Ia., Nov. 20.—One per cent of the selective draft quota in North Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa, and part of Illinois, will be sent to this cantonment soon, as the vanguard of the final increment according to officials here.

The one per cent represents about 500 men. Local draft boards have been authorized to send these men in order that many persons who resigned positions when they thought the final increment would be called will not have to remain idle longer.

U. S. DESTROYER SINKS; CREW OF 21 IS MISSING

Chauncey, Obsolete Type of Boat of But 420 Tons Burthen, in Collision

BOAT FROM ROCHESTER, SUNK NOV. 2, REPORTED

Five Survivors of Original 12 Refugees have Landed at Port in Ireland

- Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The sinking of the American destroyer Chauncey in a collision in the war zone area yesterday morning with the probable loss of 21 lives was announced today by the navy department. No further details were given from Vice Admiral Sims. The Chauncey was a small, old type boat of only 420 tons.

Secretary Daniels made this statement: "The Chauncey, a small American destroyer, was sunk in a collision early Monday morning. First dispatches indicate that 21 lives were lost. Further information will be made public when full reports are received."

FIVE OF 12 SURVIVE. London, Eng., Nov. 20.—The missing boat from the American steamer Rochester which was sent to the bottom by a German submarine November 2, has been landed at a port in Ireland, the British admiralty announced today. The boat contained five men, the original survivors from the boat crew of 12.

OWNERSHIP OF YOUNG HEIFER INVOLVED IN INTERESTING LAWSUIT

Prominent Britton Farmers Contest Possession of Animal

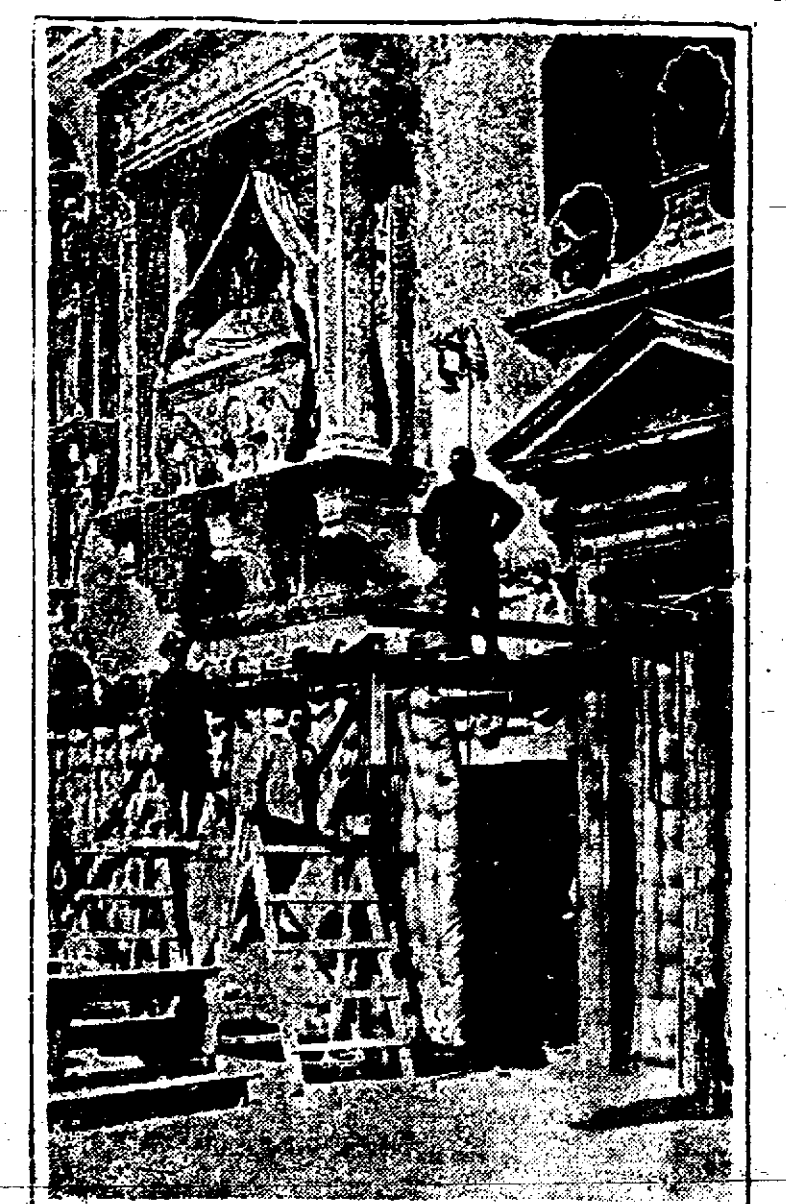

Each has Branded. The ownership of a purebred heifer which bears the brand of each contestant is in dispute in a jury trial which began in Justice Heckreid's court this forenoon between Adolph Glovonia, represented by R. E. McCurdy, and M. C. Olds, represented by George Register. Both of the contestants are well known Britton farmers. Each contends that the valuable heifer or her twin is his, and each has branded the animal as his property. The jury consists of H. B. Neighbor, Otto Dirlam, H. G. Dralle, Carl Eredy, Elmer Brown and Chris Zelzer.

JOFFRE LIBERALLY AIDS ORPHANS OF MEDAL MEN

Paris, Nov. 19.—Children in orphan asylums of soldiers who were decorated with the military medal have received a donation of 20,000 francs from Marshal Joffre.

The donation of Marshal Joffre probably is part of the 500,000 francs collected in his honor in the United States for French war charities.

Venice Prepared For Siege

Venice, the art city of Italy, may soon be under the German guns. Shall St. Marks, the Campanile and other masterpieces of architecture, suffer the fate of the Rheims and Louvain? The pope has asked the kaiser to guard against wrecking these treasures. The picture shows workmen banking the church of St. John and Paul with sandbags, as protection against German shells.

SERIOUS RIOTS IN GERMANY QUELLED BY USE OF FIREARMS

London, Nov. 20.—Serious rioting took place in Berlin last Sunday, according to dispatches received by the Wireless Press, and the Exchange Telegraph Co., from Amsterdam.

One message says the fighting between the mob and police was fierce, and that there were heavy casualties as the police used their firearms. Another says the military and police were called upon to oppose the progress of the Independent Socialists' demonstration. In the riotous scenes which followed the police were forced to fire with their rifles and revolvers and the organizers of the meeting responded with firearms and knives.

The German press, the dispatches say, have been forbidden to publish details of the fray. No newspapers have arrived in Amsterdam from Berlin.

WHITE SLAVE CASE NOW IN JURY'S HANDS

Fate of Five Young Men Charges with Brutal Crime Against Girl Soon will be Known

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 20.—The northwest's most sensational white slave case went to the jury this afternoon, Judge Amidon completing his charge just before noon. The fate of five prominent Grand Forks young men whom Adelaide Chapman of Larimore charges with the most dastardly of all possible crimes will be known, it is expected, within a few hours.

The case of the United States government vs. Roy Springs, Clifton Bridgeman, Eugene Coulter, Paul Williams and William Hogg, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, was given to the jury this morning. Closing arguments were completed late yesterday afternoon.

Shortly after the noon recess Monday it was announced that counsel for the government had agreed to drop the charge of conspiracy.

Judge Carmody and U. S. District Attorney M. E. Hildreth did the summing up for the government, while Tracy R. Bangs gave the arguments for the defense.

FOUR BEAVER PELTS COST BOYD TOWNSHIP FARMER HEAVY FINE

James Cox Pays $75 and Costs, Totalling $94.60, for Trapping Out of Season

James Cox, prominent Boyd township farmer, in whose possession State Game Warden Reko of Mandan found four fine beaver pelts, pleaded Monday evening and paid a fine of $75 and costs, totaling in all $94.60. Had Cox waited until January 19 he could have trapped all the beaver he pleased, but he couldn't resist the temptation to tan the pelts of these four fine fellows who accommodately walked into his traps. The pelts were confiscated by Mr. Reko and will be sold for the benefit of the state game and fish fund. Cox reports that trapping has never been better. There are tens of thousands of muskrat, and mink are plentiful. Cox has a coal-black mink pelt trapped this fall which he regards invaluable.

STEEL SHIPS. Contracts for the Construction of 36 Merchantmen.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Thirty-six additional contracts for the construction of steel merchant ships will be let by the shipping board tomorrow. This will bring the total number signed to about 550. Wooden ships building number more than 400.

GERMANS MOVE TROOPS FROM RUSSIAN FRONT

Val Supplies and Large Bodies of Men Transported to Western Zone

ADMIT POSSIBILITY OF SALONIKI DRIVE

Central Powers May Seek to Force a Decision at Some Point in This Theater

Copenhagen, Nov. 20.—Reports from several sources in Germany bear out the assumption that, taking advantage of the situation in Russia, the German government is making heavy transfers of troops from the Russian front. Only part of them appear to be going to Italy where the front is too narrow to permit the use of great masses, and a blow by Von Hindenburg at some other point, in the way of a diversion, may, perhaps, be expected.

Some troops are reported to have been moved to the western front, but this is not necessarily significant.

German newspapers discuss with suspicious frankness the prospect of an offensive on the Saloniki front, but have never a word to say about the obvious chance of a smashing blow at Roumania in an effort to end the resistance of that nation. As for Italy, if the Austrians and Germans find the reinforced Italian army too hard a nut to attempt to crack, the Central Powers can easily and quickly change to the defensive on the new line for the purpose of seeking to force a decision on some other selective front with the bulk of their strategic reserves.

FROM RUSSIAN FRONT. London, Nov. 20.—A telegram from Maastricht, Holland to Amsterdam, as forwarded by the Central News, reports great movement of troops with artillery on all roads leading to the flanders front. These troops evidently are from the Russian front, the dispatch says.

SHAW'S APPEAL NOW IN HANDS OF HIGH COURT

Assistant Attorney General Brennan holds Governor has Power Over Police Officers

RULING IN INTERESTING CASE EXPECTED IN WEEK

The fate of President W. S. Shaw of the Minot city commission now rests with the supreme court, which Monday evening took under consideration the president's appeal from a decision of Judge Leighton in the Ward county district court denying Shaw a writ of prohibition restraining his removal by Governor Frazier for alleged laxness developed in the recent Magic City vice raid.

Assistant Attorney Daniel V. Brennan, representing the governor, urged that the removal statute need not mention by name the president of a city commission, inasmuch as it gives the governor jurisdiction over the president of a city commission as a police officer, police officers being specifically mentioned in the act. The president of a city commission, argued Brennan, is a police officer, not only the head of the city police force by right of office, but endowed with special and particular police powers not peculiar to a mayor.

He also argued that the charges brought against Shaw are amply sufficient to give the governor jurisdiction in this matter, and held that the removal act is constitutional and valid in every particular.

The entire day was occupied in the arguments and summing up of Judge Goss for the petitioner and Mr. Brennan for the state. The court took the case about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, and it is expected that its decision will be handed down within a week.

RAID HEADQUARTERS. Minneapolis, Nov. 19.—Federal agents today raided local headquarters of the I. W. W. and seized a large amount of literature and records to be used as evidence in the case against the leaders of the organization, who are being held in Chicago under indictment by the federal grand jury.

The raid was requested by the United States district attorney's office of Chicago which is seeking further evidence relative to the activities of the Agricultural Workers' department of the I. W. W.

Loyal Corps Say Kerensky Is with Them

No Confirmation of Report Reaching Petrograd that Premier is in Safe Hands

MADE HIS ESCAPE IN DISGUISE OF SAILOR

Petrograd, Nov. 20.—Two army corps loyal to the committee for the salvation of the revolution stationed at Luga report that Premier Kerensky is with them. There is no confirmation, however.

After the defeat of his forces at Gatchina, Premier Kerensky was faced with the prospect of desertion of the bulk of his army. He was forced into promising to surrender, but while the guard was being formed he disappeared, disguised as a sailor. The committee for the salvation of the revolution is opposed to the Bolshevik regime in Petrograd and has protested against the arrest of Premier Kerensky.

PETITIONS FOR GRAND JURY IN COURT'S HANDS

Requests Containing Signatures of 300 Taxpayers Filed with Judge Nuesse Monday

NO INTIMATION GIVEN AS TO ACTION TO BE TAKEN

Petitions containing the signatures of 300 Burleigh county taxpayers demanding the calling of a grand jury were filed with Judge W. L. Nuesse Monday evening by Harry A. Thompson, former fire chief. Judge Nuesse received the petitions without comment, giving no indication as to what his action would be.

Under the North Dakota statutes any one of three methods may be adopted in calling a grand jury. It may be impeached by order of the district judge at any term of court, or it may be ordered impeached by the county board of commissioners, or it may be called upon petition of not less than ten per cent of the taxpayers of the county. The last named method has been adopted in this instance. Petitions were placed in circulation two weeks ago, and the number of signatures obtained is said to be well in excess of the requirements.

Optional or Obligatory. Those primarily interested in the circulation of these petitions claim that they make the calling of a grand jury obligatory on the part of Judge Nuesse. Some it is understood hold on the other hand, that the matter remains optional with Judge Nuesse. The latter gave no intimation yesterday as to whether a jury would be called. The petitions were filed with him late Monday afternoon, and early this morning the judge left for Washburn to finish the McLean county term of district court.

What Grand Jury is. A grand jury may consist of not less than 16, nor more than 23 freeholders. It is impeached in the same manner as a petit jury names being drawn by lot from a list selected by the county auditor. The jury may sit ten days unless recalled to sit until its business is completed, and its investigatory powers are almost unlimited. The state's attorney is expected to work with the grand jury, but it may take up any matter it chooses independent of him and may subpoena witnesses, make investigations and return indictments as it sees fit. The state's attorney is required to prosecute those indicted.

STEPHEN KLECHNICK OF BISMARCK HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Camp Dodge, Ia., Nov. 20.—Stephen Klechnick of Bismarck, N. D., was brought to the headquarters of the military police here today charged with desertion for failure to report for service upon notification from local draft boards. He was arrested in Chicago. His case is being investigated.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 20.—Among the wounded in today's casualty list is J. P. Hearst of Tyler, N. D.

DESPERATION MARKS PIAVE RIVER BATTLE

If Invaders have Captured Monte Tomba as Claimed, They are Nearing the Plains

BRITISH MAKE SLIGHT ADVANCE AGAINST HUNS

German Attacks Repulsed in Ypres Salient—Bolsheviks in Control at Petrograd

Italian possession of Venice and security of the Piave line depend apparently on the outcome of the desperate battle now in progress between the Piave and Brenta rivers. The Austro-Germans are attacking heavily and are advancing against the stout resistance of the Italians.

If the invaders have captured Monte Tomba, as claimed by Berlin, they are within a few miles of the plains behind the Piave. The Italians are defending each position, but the Germans have advanced several miles within the last few days and seemingly are attempting to drive a wedge between the Italians in the region of Asiago and those along the Piave.

Bringing in More Austrians. The Austro-Germans are exerting strong pressure here and are reported to have brought up Austrian troops from the eastern front, and to have transferred General Von Buelow's army to this sector. Apparently the Anglo-French reinforcements have not yet reached the Italian fighting zone, and from Italian headquarters it is announced these troops could be used between the Piave and the Brenta, where the pressure of the invaders is strongest. Around Asiago, the Italians have checked the Austro-Germans and have been successful in offensive operations. Defeated in strong efforts to cross the Piave between Vidor and the Adriatic sea, the Austro-Germans have ceased their attempts. The artillery fire, along the river, however, is violent.

British Make Advance. On the western front, the infantry activity has increased. The British have made a slight advance northwest of Passchendaele and have repulsed German attacks at other points in the Ypres salient. In the region of Chaume Wood, on the river bank of the Meuse, northeast of Verdun, the French have made an advance, inflicting losses on the Germans.

In the American sector the artillery firing continues and there have been further clashes between American and German patrols. An American soldier has been killed in a fight in No Man's Land.

Bolsheviks in Power. The Bolsheviks now hold the upper hand in Petrograd, Moscow, and other large cities, but it is indicated that the question of food supplies now overshadows the political situation. The menace of the famine has brought about a cessation between hostilities between the opposing parties for at least a moment.

The government of Premier Lloyd George apparently has been successful in facing its first serious attack on its administration. The premier, in the house of commons, has answered his critics, and has announced the new inter-allied war council would coordinate the work of the various staffs and was not an attempt to place military power in the hands of politicians.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN QUERO. Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy. (By the A. P.)—Nov. 20.—The enemy is concentrating his attacks on the middle and lower reaches of the Quero river, where the fighting is in progress south of Quero, where the Italian positions on Monte Tera and Monte Tomba.

ITALIAN ATTACKS FAIL. Berlin, via London, Nov. 20.—Strong Italian counter attacks against positions captured on the northern slope of Monte Tomba on the mountain front near the upper Piave were unsuccessful, the war office announces. Heavy fighting continues.

DRIVEN BACK.

Rome, Nov. 20.—The struggle between the Austro-Germans and the Italians on Monte Tomba and Monte Montefera in the mountainous region of northern Italy continues, it was officially announced today by the Italian war department. Invading forces were driven back four times when they attempted to take the Italian positions on the Montefera spur.

GERMANS ACTIVE. Paris, Nov. 21.—The Germans made an attack last night on a front of one kilometer in the Verdun sector north of Courleures wood. They succeeded in penetrating the French advance positions over a small extent of this front, says today's official statement, but subsequently were expelled for the most part.

DRASTIC RULES FOR CONTROL OF GERMAN ALIENS

All Over Age of 14 Required to Register with an Authority Not Yet Named.

MUST REPORT IN REGULAR PERIODS
District of Columbia Closed to Lessen Traffic in War Information.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Drastic regulations to enable government agents to keep the thousands of Germans in the United States under constant surveillance and curb the treasonable activities of a few, will be promulgated soon by Attorney General Gregory, to make effective a proclamation issued today by President Wilson imposing restrictions on free movement of alien enemies. By means of the new regulations the department of justice expects to be able to round up Germans who are believed to have directed the organized campaigns of sabotage and propaganda to embarrass the United States in the war.

Age 14 and Over.
Unnaturalized male Germans above the age of 14 are required to register with the police or some other authority to be designated by the attorney general. They must report periodically to some official if the attorney general so orders. They may not travel in the United States without a permit and may not approach within 100 yards of any wharf, pier, dock, warehouse, shed, elevator, storage house, railroad terminal, or other establishment which the attorney general may designate. They are forbidden to travel on the ocean, Great Lakes or any river or waterway, either on public vessels or in their own private boats. They may not enter or reside in the District of Columbia or the Panama canal zone, and are not permitted to make aerial flights in balloons or airplanes.

Applies to Germans Only.
The new order applies to Germans, but does not affect subjects of Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria. It is effective immediately, but the registration and licensing for traveling will not be put into full effect for a few days.

In administering the new regulations the department of justice will abide by the government's established policy of annoying law abiding Germans as little as possible.

The registration probably will be made by local police in cities and towns, although department of justice officials today had not decided finally on whom this task should be imposed. The same authority probably will be designated to receive periodic reports from alien enemies, and to issue permits for travel.

Germans without evil intent, officials believe, will comply willingly with the terms of the new restrictions in the knowledge that similar restrictions are imposed on alien enemies by other warring nations. Those who disobey, however, will place themselves open to suspicion, and the government will exercise its privilege of internment for the war any who fail to comply voluntarily.

Water Travel Forbidden.
A most important feature of the proclamation, officials say, is the forbidding of water travel to enemies. Much of the damage to docks and piers is known to have been done by German agents traveling in motor boats. In addition, German waiters or stewards on ocean steamships, either in trans-Atlantic or coastwise traffic, are suspected of having carried messages which eventually reached Germany.

The closing of the District of Columbia to Germans was urged by government agents as one means of lessening the traffic in valuable war information which is believed to have its most important center in the capital. The few scores of unnaturalized Germans living in Washington will be forced to move out immediately.

Women Under Ban.
German women are subject to the regulations inasmuch as alien enemies were defined by the espionage act as "natives, citizens, denizens or subjects of the hostile nation or government, being males of the age of 14 years or upward."

John Lord O'Brien, special assistant to the attorney general for war work, will have charge of the enforcement of the new rules, and will supervise the department's force of secret agents.

The board voted also to expend any sums in addition to the $5,000 deemed necessary to encourage athletics among the men in the national service. The board recommended that hereafter no noteworthy performance be recognized unless they equal or excel previous records made under similar conditions.

ADOPTED SON SAYS LANGMAN POISONED

Wife Administered Dose to Get Possession of Husband's Large Property.

FIRST WIFE MAY ALSO HAVE BEEN MURDERED

Chicago, Nov. 20.—J. John H. Lowrey, assistant state attorney, announced today that he had obtained a confession from John Henry Langman, in which the latter admitted that he and his step-mother, Mrs. Langman, had entered into a conspiracy to get possession of her late husband's property. Young Langman, an adopted son, confessed, the assistant state attorney asserted, that he saw Mrs. Langman administer poison to his stepfather, John Langman.

Langman is also said to have made admissions concerning the death of Mrs. Margaretta Langman, the first wife.

Mrs. Lihse Langman, her stepson said, had offered him $60 to protect her in his testimony at the coroner's inquest.

Mrs. Langman is under arrest charged with the murder of her husband, who died Oct. 23, of what the police believe to have been arsenic poisoning.

BISMARCK PIONEERS URGE REOPENING OF ANCIENT RIVER ROAD

Point Advantages to be Gained from Abandoning Present Highway Over Bluffs

Three Bismarck pioneers who were here when the river road was laid out, appeared before the city commission Monday evening to urge that a stretch of this historic highway from Ward's farm to the ferry landing be reopened, and that the road leading up over the bluffs from Ward's farm to the city, via the Country club, be abandoned. There were present J. J. Jackman, who has lived on his farm, just west of the city since the spring of 1872, before the first townsite was laid out; E. B. Speery, one of the pioneer farmers on the river, north-west of the city, and County Commissioner Birlea O. Ward, one of the first white men to be born in Bismarck. All pointed out the advantages to be gained from abandoning the hilly road over the bluff with its almost impossible grade for the river level road to the ferry landing, whence the grades into the city are more difficult. All of the pioneers were prepared to testify that the river road had been used as a public highway for so many years that there could be no thought of contesting the public's right to it. City Engineer Atkinson was instructed to prepare blue prints showing the improvement necessary to make the river road passable, and the commission adjourned until Wednesday evening to give this matter further consideration.

The city commission last evening adopted a resolution warning Bismarck merchants that hereafter the commission will recognize no bills submitted for purchases made by city employees except upon a signed order from the city commissioner for whose department the supplies are purchased, or from the president. Order books have been provided with duplicate blanks, and they will be placed in immediate use.

The commission, which had advertised for bids on 1,000 feet of hose, awarded the Johnson company of Minneapolis a contract for 500 feet, withholding action on the remainder of the order.

Chilean Heiress Shoots Husband When He Breaks Promise to Restore Child.

FORMER ATHLETE KILLED
IN DELIRIUM OF FRENZY

New York, Nov. 20.—Four jurors were selected yesterday to hear the trial of Mrs. Blanca De Saulles, 23-year-old Chilean heiress, who is charged with shooting to death her divorced husband, John L. De Saulles, former Yale athlete, at his home near Westbury, N. Y., on the night of Aug. 3.

That her lawyer will try to show that temporary mental impairment, caused by being deprived of the custody of her 4-year-old son, caused Mrs. De Saulles to do the shooting, was evident from questions which they put to prospective jurors.

Henry A. Uterhart, counsel for the defendant, said he would introduce no testimony relative to his client's sanity through alienists, but that he would place on the witness stand Lewis C. Thompson, whom he described as a "psychological chemist." What Thompson will have to say, Uterhart intimated, will have an important bearing on the defense.

As a basis for the insanity, it is understood the defense will maintain Mrs. De Saulles became mentally deranged when De Saulles broke a promise which she declares he made to return their son to her custody early the night of the shooting; that she motored to De Saulles home, and, further excited by his refusal to let her see "Little Jack," drew a revolver from her pocket and shot him.

HEAR RUSSELL

Through some blunder the date of the Russell lecture was confused. A chalk artist placarded the side walks announcing the fact that Mr. Russell would address a meeting Monday evening when it was thoroughly published that his appearance was billed for Tuesday evening.

Charles Edward Russell, well known publicist and lecturer, appears under the auspices of the department of information of the United States. President Wilson named him as a special envoy to Russia because he represents the more conservative type of socialists. He refused to follow the party in its pacifist tangent and like John Shargo preferred to be an American first and a socialist "within the law" second.

He has vigorously denounced Senator Gronna and had nothing but contempt for the recent St. Paul meeting where La Follette uttered sedition which he must explain in charges preferred by the United States senate. Russell went so far as to say that the mouthings of such pacifists as Gronna and La Follette were responsible for the upheavals in Russia and that the fall of Riga was traceable in part to the disloyal utterances of such men.

Go and hear him this evening. He will have a message well worth while. Community gatherings to secure correct information are necessary. It will be a fine chance to show the loyal brand of Bismarck's Americanism which has been demonstrated so vigorously in Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. campaigns.

OVER THE TOP

A word of appreciation is due the members of the Y. M. C. A. team. They made a fine record demonstrating again Burleigh county's patriotism. This county leads the state for responding to calls for aid. Counties (and three times its population have been distanced by Burleigh. Mr. Graham and his coworkers are to be congratulated.

STILL HELPING RUSSIA

Chaotic conditions in free Russia have so far not stopped the efforts either of the United States or of the American Red Cross to help. Early when we entered the war, the Treasury Department extended credit of 325 million dollars to Russia, and this has never been cut off.

The government does not actually hand Russia money, but accredited Russian agents are free to purchase arms, munitions, railway supplies, food and clothing in this country, and Uncle Sam honors the bills and pays them. Just how much of this 325 millions has been spent, is being kept quiet.

Civilized states do not repudiate their international debts. Revolution ary France did not repudiate the debts piled up by previous monarchs and revolution torn Mexico also has acted honorably.

All Uncle Sam gets from Russia, and in fact from all the allies to whom he lends money, is an I O U. No bonds or securities are put up. Nations trust each other to these matters.

Even if we give Russia the entire 325 millions we will have done but a very small part of her war financing.

In October, 1914, she issued a war loan for $250,000,000 at 5 per cent; in February 1915 another for the same amount at 5 per cent; in May 1915, another for half a billion at 5 1/2 per cent; in November, 1915, another for half a million, at 5 1/2 per cent; in April, 1916, one for a billion at 5 1/2 per cent, and a final one for $110,000,000 in November 1916, at 5 1/2 per cent.

Then came the revolution, and free Russia floated a liberty loan for a billion and a half at 5 per cent in April, 1917. The old and new governments also have issued exchequer bonds for a half million dollars; currency and other loans for $100,000,000; treasury bills for about three billions.

England has honored bills to the tune of nearly two billions, France for a half billion, and Japan for $130,000,000.

This brings the total war loans, up to Aug. 1, to more than eleven and a half billion dollars, of which we have extended probably less than a quarter of a billion.

The American Red Cross has rendered efficient aid to the wounded soldiers and to the suffering children of free Russia. The commission that went over took three carloads of medical supplies. A warehouse and distributing center was established at Moscow. Nearly $250,000 of drugs and surgical supplies has either gone to Russia or will soon go.

The food, clothing and footwear problem of Russia will be serious this winter. There is enough food, but transportation has so broken down that famine threatens certain sections. To save children, the Red Cross sent one million pounds of condensed milk to Russia in October, and another million pounds will go this month.

Another crying need of Russia is ambulances. On the eastern front Russia has only 6000 for its vast armies, while on the French front, one-third as long, there are more than 60,000. The Red Cross has just shipped 125 complete motor ambulances for use of the Russian army.

THE UNFILLED ORDER. "Get out of the war rut! Give us a bunch of 'human interest' editorials!" ordered the Boss.

An expression of finality, that ashy hue which deadens men's features when the end has arrived came quickly over the face of the old editorial writer. His pencil paused upon the paper. His hands dropped upon his knees. His eyes turned to cement. His jaws fell apart.

For weeks and weeks, from rising of the sun to disappearance of the last candle in the house, through newspapers, magazines, trade journals, religious publications, all the current literature, he had sought the "human interest" inspiration and the only such was war, war, war. And now implacable Fate had seized him for her own.

With one weak look of reproach at the Boss, he silently lowered his forehead to the desk, and moved not. He was dead, dead!

Samuel Gompers showed wisdom when he refused to listen to the siren call of Townley. Federated labor is too big an institution to climb on that kind of a band wagon. Anyway union labor is patriotic from the soles of its feet to the top of its head.

It is in the war to help America win not to block the war plans of the administration.

THE ALLIES

FAILURE OF ALLIES TO REINFORCE STRUGGLING ITALIANS BIG HANDICAP

Defenders Generally Successful in Holding Lines Along the Piave Front.

BOTH ARMIES INACTIVE ALONG WESTERN FRONT. Indications Point to Another Attack by General Haig in Flanders Region.

Headquarters of the Italian Army in Northern Italy, Sunday, Nov. 18, 6 p. m.—Having felt the Italian steel along the Piave, the enemy is again massing his forces on the north. Austrian prisoners taken at Pollina and Fagare say that Von Buelow's forces, who were present four days ago at Vidor, on the Piave river, now have been swung northward, probably back to Asiago, on the front between the Piave and Brenta rivers.

Some of the heaviest blows now are being struck there, and, although the enemy forces in that territory have exceeded the Italians, heavy reserves are being added to them, and the pressure has been steadily increased since Friday.

It is not possible to state where the allied reinforcements are, but it can be stated that they are not on the Piave nor in the fighting zone at the north, which now appears to be one of the enemy's chief lines of approach.

It is felt that the allied reinforcements could render incalculable service at this juncture in furnishing reserves to meet this concentration on the north, and the correspondent is authorized to state that this would be considered most timely now.

Austrian prisoners also say that fresh enemy divisions have recently been brought from the Russian front and the prisoners include a large number of Poles thus far used on the Russian front. They give strange accounts of what is happening along the Russian front and assert that Russian resistance is giving place to easy living and feasting.

ON ALL FRONTS.

While the Italians are holding the middle and lower reaches of the Piave river against the Teutonic allied invaders and have thrown back the greater portion of those who crossed the stream and gained the western bank, the enemy is trying with strong forces in the north to beat back the troops of General Diaz pierce the line and force a retirement westward from the river from the region of Vidor to the Adriatic sea. The Austrian statement of Saturday admits the withdrawal of "reconnoitering detachments" from the west bank of the Piave.

Points of Vantage.

In this endeavor the invaders have captured several important points of vantage—notably the villages of Querc and Monte Cornelle—and have compelled the Italians under a heavy bombardment to evacuate their fortified position on Monte Tonba, almost the last stronghold barring the way to the northern edge of the Venetian plains. These captures are reported by the German war office, but the admission had been made previously by Rome that the enemy was attacking in this region with heavy effectives, doubtless among them reinforcements which it had been known for several weeks they were hurrying southward. The German announced also the taking of 1,100 prisoners during the fighting. Allies Not Yet Arrived.

Nothing as yet has been heard of the arrival of British and French reinforcements to aid the Italians in holding their line, but the "few days" that it was announced last week would have to elapse before they could reach the front have now passed, and it is not improbable that soon the front in the north will perceptibly stiffen and bring to an end the inroads of the enemy.

All the enemy forces which last week crossed the river Piave near Zenson have been swept clear of the western bank in a brilliant attack by the Italians. Large numbers of them met death along the eastern bank or were drowned in their hurried attempt to ford the stream. Others were bayoneted or shot by the invaders, and it was only a small portion of the original force that was able to make their way to safety.

Quiet in the West. No infantry actions of importance have taken place along the western front in Belgium and France, but indications point to another attack by Field Marshal Haig in Flanders and possibly by General Petain's forces near Verdun. On both sectors heavy bombardments are in progress—that in Flanders extending from the region of Passchendaele up to the Belgian coast.

While the Bolsheviki elements in Russia are threatening to make a peace on their own terms and thenceforth remain neutral in the war, dispatches from Petrograd are to the effect that the German emperor has made it known that he will negotiate for peace only with the successor to the imperial Russian government or with the Russian constituent assembly.

ITALIAN YOUTH KILLS OFFICER. Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 20.—Sergeant Morini, 26 years old of the Bersaglieri brigade, is the man who killed General Von Benig of the Austrian army at the gate of Vidne during the Italian retreat. Sergeant Morini was awarded the Italian military decoration which he delivered to the Italian commander.

A Rome dispatch on Nov. 5 announced the killing of a general commanding an enemy corps in the suburbs of Udine on Oct. 28 by shots fired into the general's automobile by two Italian carabinieri. The foregoing evidently alludes to this incident.

DEATH OF GENERAL MAUDE. London, Nov. 20.—Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons today the death of General Maude, commander of the British Mesopotamian army, and characterized him as a "great leader of men and a commander of the first rank."

The premier briefly reviewed General Maude's career and told of the difficulties he overcame, which resulted in the capture of Bagdad and other successes in Mesopotamia.

"Now in his hour of triumph," said the premier, "he is stricken down by illness. The country mourns the loss of one of its most valiant sons."

WILSON GIVEN FREE HAND TO SATISFY BIG 4

Railroads Place Their Case in "Big Four" Controversy with the President.

FULL POWER TO ACT IN CASE OF CRISIS

White House Studies Britain's Plan of Dealing with the Traction Problem.

Washington, Nov. 20.—President Wilson today was given a free hand by the railroads in his effort to avert a strike for higher wages by engineers, conductors, trainmen and brakemen, with whose representatives he will confer here Thursday.

This came in formal announcement by the railroads' war board that the railroads were ready, should any crisis arise, to place their interests unreservedly in the hands of the president for such disposition as he may determine is necessary in the public interest and the announcement was expected to clear away misunderstandings of the brotherhoods over the attitude of the roads, which had caused the unions to refuse to arbitrate the dispute.

Steady Flow of Traffic.

Possibility of a stoppage in the steady flow of commerce, thereby paralyzing war preparations was voted by officials to have passed. They expected that an agreement to leave the wage question to an impartial tribunal would result from Thursday's conference, and already suggestions for means to forestall any further agitation concerning wages and conditions of work during the war which at the same time would protect the workers in maintaining their standards of life in the midst of war prices, are under consideration. England's example of allowing the board of trade to regulate wages at intervals of several months and at the same time adjust rates to protect the railroads, is being given close study.

Some form to continuing arbitration, it is believed confidentially, will result from the president's conference and succeeding negotiations. The railroads may ask for some form of control of wages and rates similar to that in effect to regulate coal wages and prices.

Foreign Interference.

Brotherhood officials have disclosed a serious situation in their discussions with Judge Wm. C. Chambers, chairman of the United States board of mediation and conciliation, who has been President Wilson's representative in preliminary conference with both sides. They said increased wages are necessary to maintain the operating personnel of the roads against the inducements of higher wages paid in other industries which have government contracts. Recruiting of railroad regiments for service in France, enlistment in the army and navy and the operation of the draft law also have aided in depleting the number of highly trained railroad men.

ENLISTED FOR THE WAR.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20.—Every American railroad is enlisted in this way to fight until America wins. R. H. Aishton, president of the Chicago and Northwestern railway and chairman of the central department of the railroads war board, said tonight, speaking before the Western Railway club's meeting. "American railroads will do their

CHANGE FOR BETTER AT MARKET'S CLOSE

Outburst of Activity Carries the Leading Shares to Several Points Advance.

BOND MARKET SHOWS SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT

New York, Nov. 19.—A sudden and inexplicable change for the better came over the stock market toward the end of today's trading after more than four hours of listlessness and irregular price changes. Final dealings were characterized by an outburst of activity in which leading shares were carried two to four points over lowest levels of the day.

There were no known developments to account for the movement, but the character of the buying which naturally included considerable short covering, suggested a more favorable view of the railroad rate situation.

Union Pacific featured the rails, and United States Steel the industrials, the former jumping at half point gains from $112 1/2 to $116 1/4. Steel was taken in large lots at a steady rise from 92 1/4 to 95 1/4, closing at its best, a net gain of 3 1/4 points.

The turnover in the last 30 minutes aggregated almost 25 per cent of the day's total. Between 11 and 2 o'clock dealings barely reached 100,000 shares, the three periods being marked by the most complete stagnation of the year.

In the morning and during the intermediate session the only noteworthy features were of a depressing or negative nature. Delaware and Hudson dropped 4 1/4 points to $7, its minimum of many years. Pennsylvania's fractional recession to 46 1/2 represented the lowest quotation for that stock in over a generation. Italian exchange recorded a further collapse and liberty 4's fell to a discount of three per cent.

Rally Aids Bonds. These adverse conditions were largely relieved in the rally at the close, although the bond market shared only slightly in the improvement manifested elsewhere. Sales amounted to 420,000 shares.

Liberty 4's varied from 98.24 to 97, closing at 97.50. The 3 1/2's ranged from 99.80 to 99.02, closing at 99.20. Total sales of bonds (par value) aggregated $4,325,000. United States bond (old issues) were unchanged on call.

INCREASED VISIBLE SUPPLY.

New York, Nov. 19.—The visible supply of American and bonded grain shows the following changes: Wheat increased 1,934,000 bushels. Corn increased 434,000 bushels. Oats decreased 78,000 bushels. Rye increased 326,000 bushels. Barley decreased 855,000 bushels.

CORN RECEIPTS SHOW SHIPPING ACTIVITY

Prices Slightly Lower on Liberal Arrivals and New Reading of Crop Estimates.

PROVISIONS ACTIVE ON ADVANCED HOG PRICES

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Enlargement of supplies, together with improvement in the quality of arrivals, had a bearish effect today on the corn market. Prices, although steady at the close, were quarter to 1/2 net lower, with January $1.16 1/2 to $1.16 1/4, and May $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 1/4. Late finished unchanged to 1/4 higher, and provisions up 2 1/2 to 10c.

Receipts of corn showed a liberal total for the first time in a long while the aggregate being 417 carloads, of which 270 were new corn. Besides, the United States visible supply began to display an increase, having gained in the last week 434,000 bushels. Betterment in condition of spot offerings here was of a notable character, especially as to moisture content. Another decided handicap to the bulls lay in a special government report which seemed to imply that the latest federal crop estimate, 3,191,000,000 bushels, did not include the worst damaged corn and therefore meant a larger percentage of good corn traders generally had figured upon.

Some renewal of seaboard demand strengthened the oats market in the last hour. Previously corn weakness had acted as a drag.

Provision prices were swayed by changes in the value of hogs. Most of the buying came from shorts.

Red Cross Seal Day For Bismarck Announced For Saturday Nov. 24

Dr. Fannie Dunn Quinn, secretary of the North Dakota Anti-Tuberculosis association, announced today the annual Bismarck Seal day for the Red Cross seals for Saturday of this week. The sale will be pushed more vigorously this year than in former ones as the need for funds is more urgent and the association sees before it a greater amount of work as the result of the war.

A number of committees will be appointed and will canvass the hotels, postoffice, capitol, business houses and schools. The campaign will be carried on similarly as last year.

From the National Headquarters comes literature telling of the ravages among soldiers in the trenches. How some have escaped the German bullets but have succumbed to the white plague.

Last year Bismarck lead all other cities in the state in the sale and it is expected that the capital city will come to the front as it was in the recent campaigns for the sale of Liberty bonds and the Y. M. C. A.

EVERYBODY'S KNITTING FOR OUR SAMMIES IN FRANCE; HERE ARE SOME OF THE FIRST THINGS TO REMEMBER IF YOU HELP

By GRACE JOHNSTON.

New York, Nov. 19.—One of the largest auditoriums in the city of New York was crowded with women. They had come together at the invitation of the Women's Committee of One Hundred for Non-partisan Government to hear Mayor John Purroy Mitchell speak.

It was not a roaring, noisy, wild gathering such as men are wont to make of their political meetings. The women sat composed and quiet, diligently applying themselves to their knitting. But when the mayor rose to address them, a burst of enthusiasm greeted him and a perfect sea of gray and khaki worsted waved before him. Then the knitting of sweaters and scarfs and helmets was resumed while the "fighting mayor" presented the campaign issues to an interested audience.

In a middle western city a preacher preaches every Sunday morning to an audience, half of which—probably at least—three fourths of which—are women who knit and listen, knit and listen, knit and listen.

In New York women knit in automobiles, at the theatres, at tea in the hotels. They knit in the railroad stations, in the subway and on the street corners.

A gorgeous knitting bag of silk or velvet or chintz trimmed with satin flowers and gold lace or wool embroidery or beading is as important a part of a new fall costume as veil or collar or any other trapping.

To be sociable, you must knit; to be smart you must knit; to be patriotic, you must knit.

And most important of all, you must knit according to directions so that your work will be serviceable—there is need for all your knitting—none should be useless because it has not been made according to directions. Red Cross official directions must be followed as to the weight of the wool used, the size of the needles, the color of the yarn and the fashioning of the article.

The matter of color has been considered with the authorities of the war department and with the American Red Cross commissioner for Europe who is stationed in Paris. Either gray or khaki is acceptable to both these sources.

There is difficulty in securing khaki colored yarn in large quantities and the American Red Cross Supply Bureau is carrying the gray yarn (oxford mixture, 4-ply 10's construction).

The needles recommended are standardized Red Cross needles, the diameter as follows:

No. 1—125-1000 inch.
No. 2—175-1000 inch.
No. 3—200-1000 inch.

No. 4—250-1000 inch.

When yarn and needles other than those of Red Cross standard are used knitters must be careful to observe the measurements given for each article, and a larger or smaller number of stitches used as may be required to meet the specified measurements.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 20.—The war has taken three heads of Kansas University's athletic department. Herman Olcott, coach of the University's football eleven, has accepted, for the duration of the war, a position to assist in directing athletics and the physical education of the 12,000 men at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

George "Pot-y" Clark, who was Olcott's assistant last year, is a second lieutenant at Camp Funston. Leon B. McGarry, former coach of the freshman team, is a first sergeant in a company of Kansas engineers.

This was Olcott's third year at Kansas University. He coached football teams and weight men for the field events. This fall he put his football squad through a period of military drill at the end of each day's practice.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 20.—Jimmy Dunn, for ten years a professional boxer and for years manager of prize fighters, has taken up his duties at Camp Zachary Taylor as boxing instructor to a considerable portion of 20,000 selected men from Indiana, Kentucky and Southern Illinois. At present Dunn is attacked as a civilian under the Committee on Training Camp Activities.

Dunn sponsored Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion and at one time had thirty-two fighters under his wing.

Dunn's work at the Camp is with the Infantry School of Arms, and in it he teaches especially capable men the art of self-defense, and they in turn will act as instructors for their companies. Army officers say that boxing teaches men to take punishment and increases their self confidence.

They Made Champion Baseball Players; Now They Will Show Uncle Sam They're Champion Sailors

By PAUL PURMAN.

It's only a year ago that we were all raving about the exploits of the Boston Red Sox, the best team of "money players" ever gathered together.

And it's only a few months ago that this same outfit was coming down in the stretch of the American League trying to overcome a handicap established by a team superior in mechanical ability.

There are five members of this club who very probably won't be seen favoring over American League diamonds this year for the simple reason that they have given their services to Uncle Sam.

Down at Boston navy yard after Nov. 15, Jack Barry, manager of the Red Sox, and the biggest world series money winner in baseball, is a yeoman and with him are three of his teammates, Chick Shorten, utility infielder, and Ernie Shore, the string bean right-handed pitcher.

And out in the Mare Island navy yard at San Francisco, Duffy Lewis, regular outfielder and one of the heroes of the 1916 world series, is doing his bit in a jackie uniform.

Another member of the Red Sox is awaiting his call for government service. He's Dick Hoblitzell, crack first baseman of the Sox, who will serve in the dental reserve corps.

Save Coal
Cut This Out and Paste It Up Near Your Furnace

Editor's Note to Reader—Coal shortages threaten many sections of this country. Coal is needed to make munitions and to transport soldiers and supplies. Coal is needed by our allies, especially Italy. And yet we cannot live comfortably in chilly houses. We must have heat. The solution, it seems, is coal conservation—to get the maximum of heat out of the minimum of fuel. To find out the best methods of conserving coal we asked George H. Cushing, editor of the Black Diamond, leading American coal trade journal, to write the following article on saving coal:

By GEORGE H. CUSHING, Editor of the Black Diamond.

There are two ways to prevent the waste of coal.

One is to put a self-adjusting damper in the smoke pipe so that when the wind blows the damper closes itself and stops the pull on the furnace.

THE OTHER WAY is to put a hinged door in the smokepipe in such a way that extreme pressure of the draft will open it and allow the basement air to satisfy it without passing through the fire.

Either of these things can be introduced at a cost of less than $4. Our experience with the self-adjusting damper is that it saved a ton of coal in a month and at that time coal was costing $9 a ton. Between the middle of October and Christmas day last year, our saving in fuel compared with the preceding year was $25—by the use of the self-adjusting draft that has cost $3.50.

In office buildings the practice is to carry enough steam to keep the rooms at a temperature of 55 to 60 degrees, if the windows are closed, and then modify the temperature by opening the window to allow part of the heat to pass out into the air. This can be prevented if the office building will burn enough coal to keep the temperature at 75 degrees and if office occupants will put in air-cleaning devices in their windows to freshen the air without allowing the heat to escape.

In households it is the practice to neglect the furnace until the house becomes too hot and then to open doors and windows to let out heat, that the family may again be comfortable. Three minutes devoted to the furnace every three hours will keep the temperature even, and will make the domestic coal go much further than it is now going.

You cannot afford to be without The Tribune. Its morning edition carries a full leased Associated Press service, the same one that appears in the St. Paul and Minneapolis morning papers. The evening edition supplements this service by a comprehensive report on all news which develops after the morning wire service ceases.

It is a continuous twenty-four hour service. The Sunday paper also carries a complete Associated Press service, featuring especially a financial market review. Local and Society news are also strong features.

For Bismarck readers the Evening edition coupled with the Sunday paper at seventy cents a month makes an ideal combination. Capital City business men should have the Morning Edition delivered at their offices for access to stock markets.

All city readers if they are interested in instant news service should have both morning, evening and Sunday editions delivered to their homes. This combination will cost you only ninety cents a month—Three Cents a Day.

PROTESTS DE ORO'S WIN

Cannefax Claims Cuban Delayed Match to Worry Him.

For the first time since the Lambert trophy, emblematic of the three-cushion carom billiard championship, was offered for competition in 1887, the winning of the title has been protested.

Robert Cannefax, who lost the championship to Alfredo De Oro at St. Louis recently, 150 to 148, has entered a protest with the trustees of the trophy, and, as a result, not only the title, but the prize money, amounting to $1,100, is being withheld pending investigation of Cannefax's charges.

The western billiardist declared that on the final night of competition at St. Louis De Oro deliberately delayed the match and in other ways so unnerved him that he was thrown completely off his game, and, as a result, was defeated by two points. Cannefax says that Tom Scarry, the referee, confessed that he did not know exactly how to interpret the rule which penalizes delay with forfeiture of the match. Cannefax enumerates the various delays caused by the Cuban.

De Oro is a chronic kicker in matches, but that seems to be part of his game. That he is a great billiardist and a real champion nobody, not even Cannefax, can gainsay. The best Cannefax can hope for is an order to De Oro to give the St. Louis club another chance immediately.

ASSOCIATION LIKELY TO SHAVE SALARIES

Can't Be Made That Magnates Will Not Suffer Again.

From Kansas City comes the story that the American association will play a 154-game schedule in 1918 as usual, but the players' salaries will be cut so that the magnates will not have another disastrous year financially, such as they have just passed through.

For many years in the American association the top price paid a ball player was $1,500. Today the top price is about $2,500, a raise of $700 for five months' work. The average price paid a few years ago was $1,600, while the average price today is about $2,700, meaning an average increase of $400. There are about 140 players in the league, meaning an increase of $56,000 in players' salaries per year.

The magnates believe if they can cut salaries to an average of $1,600, each club owner will save about $7,000. By reducing other expenses they believe the league can be put back on a paying basis in 1918, despite the war.

It is a fact that one or two magnates will lose about $25,000 each this year. But they own clubs that have been down in the race, and there are other conditions that have brought about this financial loss. The Columbus and Indianapolis teams have made some money, while one or two others will break about even.

HUNGER HOVERS RUSSIAN CITIES UNDER THE REDS

Famine Appears in the Wake of Slavic Reign of Terror and Blood.

DRAMATIC STORY OF PHONE EXCHANGE FIGHT

Radical Leader Believes Little Garrison by Holding Off Attackers.

London, Nov. 20.—The food problem in Russia suddenly has become more pressing than the question of revolution or counter revolution. Not only in Petrograd and Moscow, but also at the front.

The spectre of famine appears to have done more than the force of arms to bring about quiet. At many places the Bolsheviks and bourgeoisie, the pacifists and the military cadets and the Kerenskyites and the Leninists have joined forces against the common enemy—hunger—in a concentrated effort to stave off disaster, which seems almost inevitable in view of the disorganized state of transportation and widespread destruction of stores and supplies.

The political situation, roughly speaking, is that the Bolsheviks have been victorious everywhere. A Moscow telegram says:

"The fighting lasted in the city from the seventh to the fifteenth and ended in a complete victory for the Bolsheviks. The casualties amounted to several thousand and the property damage was heavy, including a large loss of residential property in various parts of the city. All is now quiet, and excellent order is being maintained."

Dispatches from Petrograd say that the Bolsheviks were entirely victorious, that Premier Kerensky has disappeared and apparently is almost forgotten.

FIGHT AT PHONE EXCHANGE

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—Details of the fighting in the streets of Petrograd incident to the Bolshevik revolution were printed today in a special cablegram from its staff correspondent, mentioned in first dispatches as being one of two Americans who took shelter in the telephone exchange, around which the fighting centered.

The Bulletin's cablegram, dated Nov. 13, and delayed in transmission, in part said:

"I was in the telephone building Sunday while a squad of 60 military cadets tried to hold it against Bolshevik sailors and red guards. In the doorway talking to the cadets was an American socialist, Albert R. Williams, who pulled me into the shelter of the entrance. I found a line of 200 operators plugging in calls while rifles cracked outside the windows."

Barricade Fighting

"At 2 o'clock the sailors attacked the cadets in the streets. Boys trained in the business of war had built barricades of boxes and boards across the sidewalks. Some hid behind motor trucks, resting their guns on the engines; some lay flat in the mud and others fired from underneath trucks.

"The girl operators' faces were pale and their hands trembling. They huddled together or fled in one direction or another as the firing marked the danger point, but a hundred or more stayed at their posts until 6 o'clock, when the firing reached its height and caused a panic. Twenty remained at the switchboards until the building was surrendered."

No Quarter

"We will take Antonoff from you and kill every last one of you," was the answer.

"The boys became desperate. 'Why doesn't Kerensky come?' they asked again and again. Their stock of ammunition diminished. The red guard and sailors were crowding the courtyard and the firing had stopped. Everybody was paralyzed in inaction. Then Williams came in to the room with Antonoff.

"Taveriskh Antonoff, save our lives," pleaded the cadets. Terms of surrender were quickly arranged and Antonoff and Williams went down to face the red guard. Maddened by the loss of their own men, these were eager to be upstaged."

Antonoff to Rescue

"I have given my word of honor as a revolutionist that the boys shall not be killed, and as revolutionists,

Tobacco Habit

A very interesting book has been published on tobacco habit—how to conquer it quickly and easily. It tells the dangers of excessive smoking, chewing, snuff using, etc., and explains how nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, weak eyes, stomach troubles and numerous other disorders may be eliminated through stopping self-poisoning by tobacco. The man who has written this book wants to genuinely help all who have become addicted to the habit, and says there's no need to suffer that awful craving or restlessness which comes when one tries to quit voluntarily. This is not mind-cure or temperance sermon tract, but plain common sense, clearly set forth. The author will send it free, postpaid, in plain wrapper. Write, giving name and full address—a postcard will do. Address: Edward J. Woods, 1423 R. Station E, New York City. Keep this advertisement. It is likely to prove the best news you ever read in this journal.

you must keep that word," said Antonoff. "I will myself shoot the first man who harms one of the cadets. I would rather we all die than that this American should say that the revolutionists of Russia were base and revengeful."

"The first cadet fled downstairs. Antonoff took his hand, and turning to the sailors, said:

"This is number one, and I trust his life is in your hands. Guard it, for it honors the revolution."

"As the last cadet passed, a sailor said:

"There goes the last of the trash, but he was hurried away quickly by his comrades."

"The girls in the telephone exchange shipped out quietly and were not molested."

AMERICANS ALL SAFE

Washington, Nov. 20.—Messages from Ambassador Francis at Petrograd and Consul General Summers at Moscow, dated last Friday and Saturday, and received today at the state department, said all Americans in the principal Russian cities were safe. Conditions in both places were represented as quieter, but still chaotic.

Ambassador Francis Reported That He Had Obtained Transportation from Petrograd to Harbin over the Trans-Siberian Railroad for Americans who wished to depart from the capital.

Officials here estimated that there were about 200 Americans in Petrograd.

No suggestion was made of moving the Americans from Moscow, although the fighting in that city appeared to have been more general and sanguinary than that in Petrograd.

Petrograd in Suspense

Ambassador Francis' dispatch said the Petrograd city duma had not recognized the Lenin-Trotsky faction, and that many of the government departments were closed while others were operating under subordinate officials. A few Bolshevik newspapers were appearing at intervals, with frequent changes of names, and banks were open part of the time.

Conditions in Moscow, Consul General Summers' dispatch under date of Nov. 17, said, had somewhat improved after a week of fighting. The Maximalists had taken over the government.

Russian Embassy Encouraged

Officials at the Russian embassy said they had received no late news, but that the mention in press dispatches of the name of Captain Pavlov, a social democrat workmen's leader, as being at the head of the troops opposing the Bolsheviks, was encouraging as indicating that one of the strongest factions in the opposition had gone over to the moderates.

Prediction was made that the Bolsheviks would be overthrown by a military victory or fall by internal dissension owing to the evident incapacity of the radical leaders to obtain the reforms embodied in their program.

RUSSIANS GREET GERMANS

Stockholm, Nov. 18.—"Brotherly greetings" were recently sent by the Petrograd Bolsheviks to the German majority and minority socialists. The communication, which was issued and forwarded by the "foreign representation" of the Bolsheviks, contains numerous references to capitalists and traitors to the proletarian cause, declares the Bolshevik program to be peace without annexations or contributions, and calls on the proletariat to rise everywhere to bring to an end the long strife which is otherwise threatened. The communication declares that is their duty.

"The Bolshevik foreign representation has received from the French, Austrian and German socialist parties assurances that the Russian proletariat can reckon on powerful support."

MEN STILL PONDER AGES OLD QUESTION

Rev. George Buzzelle of St. George's Asks "What is a Soul and Whence Came It?"

Rev. George Buzzelle, rector of St. George's, Sunday spoke from the text:

"And God breathed into man the breath of life, and man became a living soul."—Gen. II, 7.

From the earliest ages, in the first dawn of history we find man pondering the question of the soul.

NO PACIFIST SOLACE IN FEDERATED LABOR

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Union labor today put its stamp of approval on the attitude of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in working hand in hand with President Wilson and placing the needs of the nation above all other considerations in questions involving the working man's part in a vigorous prosecution of the war against Germany.

The vote of confidence came after more than three hours of debate in which the pacifist element was given ample opportunity to express itself. Out of a total of 450 delegates only 15 were recorded in opposition. The garment workers of New York, under the leadership of Rose Shapiro, was the only organization refusing to go on record on the roll call.

Beautiful Buenos Aires

There are in the city of Buenos Aires 97 parks, promenades, and plazas with a total area of about 10,127,000 square meters (about 2,000 acres).

LLYOD GEORGE IN REPLY TO ASQUITH STANDS BY POLICY

London, Nov. 20.—Premier Lloyd George defended himself in the house of commons this afternoon against the first serious attack his administration has faced, and so far as the commons is concerned his defense seemed highly successful, the prime minister's admirers call it a triumph.

The attack was focussed upon two points—the character of the war council which the premier announced in Paris, and the condemnation of the allies past strategy, which he pronounced in his Paris speech.

Ex-Premier Asquith was spokesman for the opposition. His speech was not in the tone of an attack, but a sharp criticism of the new plan for allied control of the war, a vindication of his own government, for which he remarked that he himself and the present premier had each had his particular share of responsibility. It was keyed in a much milder strain than the first hostile outburst from the newspapers and sections of the liberal and conservative parties which greeted the premier on his return home.

Lloyd George in Keen Retort

The Welsh leader's reply was a characteristic fighting speech of the type which has made him famous. There was no thought of retraction for anything he had said or done, no hint of an apologetic strain which some expected for what had been called the Paris indiscretions. There were some passages which would have made old school parliamentarians, steeped in Gladstonian traditions of stately courtesy, wince, as when he said the attacks made him feel as if he were crossing the channel in a storm on a small destroyer. But Mr. Lloyd George always brings something of the touch of the stump speaker into the commons, and this gives him a stronger appeal to the greater audience outside.

The entire cabinet sat beside him on the front bench, and a packed, silent house of commons, peers and others fortunate enough to obtain gallery seats, bent forward for every word. The man whose mantle he had assumed faced him across a space of a few feet with a gilded mace between them. Although they addressed each other differentially, "As my honorable friend," sentences passed which to those who knew recent history seemed meant to stab.

LOVE GREATEST OF WORLD BLESSINGS

"The greatest blessing in the world is love," declared the Rev. L. R. Call, to a large congregation of young people at the First Baptist church Sunday. The topic of the sermon was "The Greatest Blessing in the World," and the text was taken from John 15: 12: "Love one another as I have loved you."

"Love is the central theme of the ages," continued Mr. Call. "All literature is crowded with it; all countries come under its influence; all ages hear its voice. It is the story that never grows old. Without it the palace becomes unbearable and riches fail to satisfy. All nature witnesses to its power. There is never an atom that is content alone; never a molecule that is at rest in its isolation; never a crystal that does not respond to an outer power; never a bud or a blade or a leaf of grass that does not reach forth for its beloved. They call it affinity, but affinity is but a scientific name for love. To know love is to know life and joy and to see light. Love is not blind. The search for love is in darkness but the discovery of it brings a world of light."

Peculiarly Infamous - And Wanton Deed Says Treasury Secretary

ing the same questions that today stir him to his depths. He asked then, "What is the soul; whence came it and what does it stand for?" and he presents the same query today. And nothing is more remarkable than the answer of the world to the world's question. Looked at historically modern materialism is a mere eddy upon the surface of an overwhelming current of contrary opinion. India and ancient Egypt unite the present day with the teaching of Galilee—the world is the expression of spirit, and exists for the development of it. The world exists to grow souls. No other theory fits the facts or satisfies human conscience. How else can life's sufferings and failures be accounted for? It was a commentary on God's creative genius if these and ugly incidents were of no constructive value. James Russell Lowell tells of a picture in Belgium where an angel stands and report as having been killed because tries to draw back the arm of God to prevent the creation of such a world.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 20.—Frank Fisher and John O'Neill, convicted in Butte for murdering Thos. ## Bismarck Boy Scouts to Give FEED TOMORROW

Members of Troop Three and Their Backers will Enjoy Roast Pork and Fixings

Bismarck Boy Scouts of Troop 3 and their backers are to enjoy a big feed at Scout headquarters, Second and Broadway at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. A roast porker contributed by Capt. I. P. Stiles has donated apples, and other good things have been provided. Dr. R. H. Treacy, who has donated the scout headquarters, has largely engineered the feed.

ARGUMENTS END WITH NOTICE OF FURTHER DEMAND

Federal Aid Promised in Bringing to Justice Axemen at Virginia, Minn.

SHERIFF AUTHORIZED TO OFFER $500 REWARD

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20.—The Virginia ax murders were characterized as a peculiar, infamous and wanton crime in a telegram from Secretary McAdoo to Governor Burnquist today. The secretary urged that every possible effort be made to apprehend the murderer and promised the cooperation of the treasury to that end.

Pointed Questions by Commissioner McChord

Washington, Nov. 20.—Arguments in the eastern railroads' 15 per cent advance rate case before the Interstate Commerce commission closed today with a statement of counsel for the roads that even if this increase is granted they soon will ask for another advance of approximately 15 per cent in class and commodity rates, and 10 per cent a ton on coal and coke.

DO YOU PROPOSE TO MAKE SKY THE LIMIT

Go Up Is Response of Attorney.

"What is the intention of the railroads?" asked Commissioner McChord. "To make the sky the limit?" "As cost increases, rates must go up if we are to proceed on a sound basis," answered John C. Patterson, of counsel for the railroads.

Counsel for Shippers

Counsel for the shippers maintained that by use of the additional revenue and surplus, the railroads would not be in worse condition than other businesses, and that under such circumstances, they should not expect to impose additional burden on the shippers. Mr. Patterson replied that the railroads had no desire to make money out of the war, but that they recognized industry had a great burden to bear and believed that it should be divided rather than placed in one branch of business.
